

WHAT DO YOU REALLY WANT FROM YOUR CAREER?

Crossing Thresholds is a career development programme that works. Over the course of a year participants learn how to define what they want from their careers and lives - and how to achieve it - in a structured and supportive environment, underpinned by powerful mentoring partnerships.

75% of women who complete our flagship Crossing Thresholds programme are promoted or move to a more suitable job within a year.

Includes:

- Career goal-setting and planning
- Getting the balance right
- Succeeding at interviews
- Communicating with impact
- Positioning for success

One year on, I'm in a role that I would simply never have applied for were it not for Crossing Thresholds, and I'm truly enjoying it.

CROSSING THRESHOLDS

A powerful year-long programme that delivers results.

Five themed modules, dedicated mentoring partnerships, peer support groups and individual assignments help each person develop the skills and confidence they need to achieve their individual career goals.

This foundational work has far reaching impacts; challenging, inspiring and stretching participants to think freshly about their careers and how they want to move them forward.

Partnering with a more senior mentor helps people digest their learning and develop new behaviours and ways of thinking. Spot-mentoring and shadowing allows people to expand their horizons and learn from others' experiences.

The supportive yet challenging environment enables participants to question their own and others' self-limiting assumptions.

One of the lasting legacies from Crossing Thresholds (apart from an excellent mentor who still supports my career) is the extra motivation and increased resilience to apply for roles which really appeal.
